Your AI performance coach, built on science. Available now.

Meet Ori, your AI performance coach

BUILT ON RESILIENCE SCIENCE, DESIGNED FOR THE MOMENTS THAT MATTER. AVAILABLE NOW.

My energy crashes every afternoon around 3pm. Can we look at what might be going on?

● Ori

The data tells a pretty clear story, you're 3pm crashes aren't random and there are 3 things converging...

Hi Karen, it's been a while.

Something new has just arrived in WONE, the Stress Intelligence platform built for people who want to feel as good as they perform.

Ori, WONE's AI performance coach, is now available to you in the app. Built for everyday moments of pressure, or for when you simply want to think more clearly, feel better, and recover well.

Here's how it works.

Start with what's real for you.

You bring whatever's on your mind. Ori helps you understand what's going on, what your stress might be signalling, and what to do next.

ACTIVATE TO MEET ORI

Not generic AI, a purpose-built coach.

Unlike a general-purpose AI tool, Ori is grounded in evidence-based stress science, trained by coaching experts, and designed to offer support that is practical, contextual, and safe.

A next step you can actually take

Ori doesn't give you more information to wade through. It helps you understand what's relevant now, and what small next step could help.

Ori

I've found two options for you—all focused on reducing stress and supporting focus.

Member stories

How Ori has been helping our members so far

"Rather than skimming through a content library on my own, Ori brings in the context and surfaces what's actually relevant to me. It points me straight to what I need."

CAME TO ORI FOR
Support staying focused through back-to-back meetings

"I'm generally aware of what triggers my stress and the reactions that follow. What I don't always understand is why, or how to address it. Ori showed me both."

CAME TO ORI FOR
Turning self-awareness
into something actionable

"It immediately feels safe, private, and knowledgeable. Like talking to someone infinitely wise who I respect."

CAME TO ORI FOR

A trusted space to think through high-stakes decisions.

A few things to know

Private by design

Your conversations with Ori are never personally identifiable and are never shared with your employer. Messages are encrypted, never used to train external AI models, and never sold to third parties.

Built for real change, not screen time.

Ori is designed to help you recognise and respond to stress more deliberately. Sometimes the most useful next step is to close the app and take a break.

Open Ori and type: “Help me understand what I need right now, and one small step I can take.” That’s enough.
